Jason M Hayes

APR 25, 1976 - SEP 5, 2010

Be a lovingly, beautiful human being, not because you believe some invisible entity is watching and will in time have its retribution, but because that is what is the right thing to do. We all have morals, no matter how deeply entrenched in our psyche, we all know right from wrong. If everyone was mindful of the life surrounding ones self, and took the time to positively effect other living beings, including mother earth herself, the world would be a profoundly different, and a brighter place to exist. Everything each of us does, effects everything surrounding ones self no matter how insignificant. The decisions one makes, from one moment to the next, are what shape the world around ones self. We all must take each moment and make it count, wasting none, and uplifting the world in our immediate vicinity and beyond. It is up to each and every one of us to make that difference.

You are the in the stars and in my memories. I remember you gracefully. Your sincere smile. The way you danced, and always made me laugh. We spent nearly an entire year in 1997 of listening to music being friends and doing great things. I will keep you in my heart and you will always be on my mind. Sorry I lost you.....I miss you friend.

My thoughts and prayers are with Jason's family and friends. I went to High School with Jason and can honestly say I remember his smile the most. It's tragic that he passed so young, but reading all of the posts on Facebook, he touched so many lives. Remember all the good times.
