Devon posted:

To my dearest departed cousin/auntie, Heaven was missing an angel, so the Lord has called on you to fill that vacancy. Though you are no longer here with us, I smile when I reflect on the many moments we shared with each other. Memories go as far back as the times when you and others would meet at the gates of Jennings School and sing spirituals. Oh, how I marveled to see you bring praise and songs of the Almighty to everyone. I also reflect on when I was 10 or 11 years old, and you took the time to help me with my science project. The model of the heart that we built together showed the level of your love, care, and dedication—not only to me but to all who know your name, "Elaine." I will always remember you, my dear cousin. May the Lord continue to shine His light upon you and give you peace. Rest well. With love, Devon

A lady we should take many pages from the book she wrote (her life) and model it
